PLEASE COMPLETE THE APPLICATION IMMEDIATELY!
REVIEW OF APPLICATIONS WILL BEGIN JUNE 1, 2010.

Western Michigan University and the Fort St. Joseph Museum would like to invite adults needing Continuing Education Units or college credits to join us for a week of excavations at the site of Fort St. Joseph during the 2010 Field School in Historical Archaeology. This is an excellent opportunity for those of you who have already experienced an archaeological dig as well as those who have always wanted to get your hands in the dirt and experience history up close.

During this program you will be given the opportunity to research the history of Fort Saint Joseph; a unique former missionary and trading post that has at various points in time been under the control of the French, British, Spanish, and the United States. In addition to participating directly in archaeological excavations, you will be exposed to the many aspects of what it means to be an archaeologist, from working in the lab to drawing conclusions about the people that once inhabited a site.

The program will be held from August 9-13 with availability limited to 10. The fee for 3 CEU's is $140.00. The fee for 3 Western Michigan University graduate credit hours is $1,349.82. The credits are accepted in Michigan, Indiana and Illinois. Fees cover all expenses associated with the program, except for lunch.

To enroll in the Continuing Education Units program please complete the enclosed application and Waiver of Release and Indemnification Agreement and return them to the museum.. Review of the applications will begin on June 1, 2010, and candidates will be notified of their acceptance by June 8, 2010 or until the program is filled. A check for $140.00 made payable to Fort St. Joseph Museum must be received by June 22, 2010 for the acceptance process to be considered complete and to ensure that the opening will not be made available to another applicant.

To apply for the Western Michigan University credit program please contact the Fort St. Joseph for application instructions. Review of the applications will begin on June 1, 2010, and candidates will be notified of their acceptance by June 8, 2010 or until the program is filled.
